T1A2 – PORTFOLIO WEBSITE

Inspiration

Inspiration

- These were the designs I thought looked effective, and somewhat within my skillset.

Components

Components

I wanted my website to feature the following components:

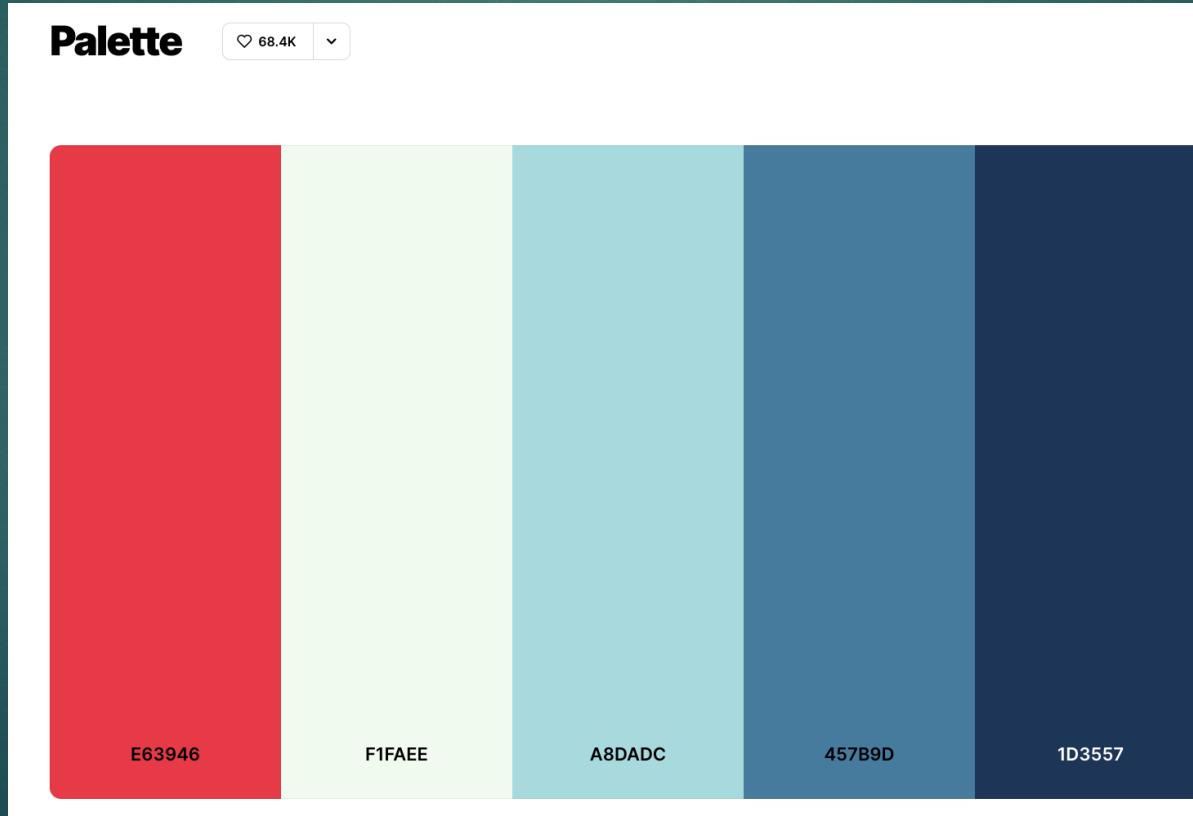

- Logo: Intended to function as the home button and to give myself a brand that a client or potential employer might remember.
- Navbar: To demonstrate that I can make a website easy to navigate.
- Contact page: A call to action. For people who want me to get back to them.
- Footer on every page: My socials can be clicked and linked to once the viewer decides they'd like to know more about me or contact me directly without the contact page.
- Phone number link for mobile: If viewing on some phones, you can call me instantly.
- Entertaining blog posts and tongue in cheek CV: I've always benefited most when I've leaned into my personality and sense of humour. This could be my point of difference between myself and another candidate for a job.

Colours

Colour Palette

- I picked a trending palette from Colors.co.
- I liked the 3 shades of blue juxtaposed with the red.
- More sophisticated version of the Newcastle Knights colours.
- Didn't end up using the off-white colour.

Logo

Logo

- I tried to design a logo that looked like code.

{RD} _FStWbDv

_FStWbDv

{RD}

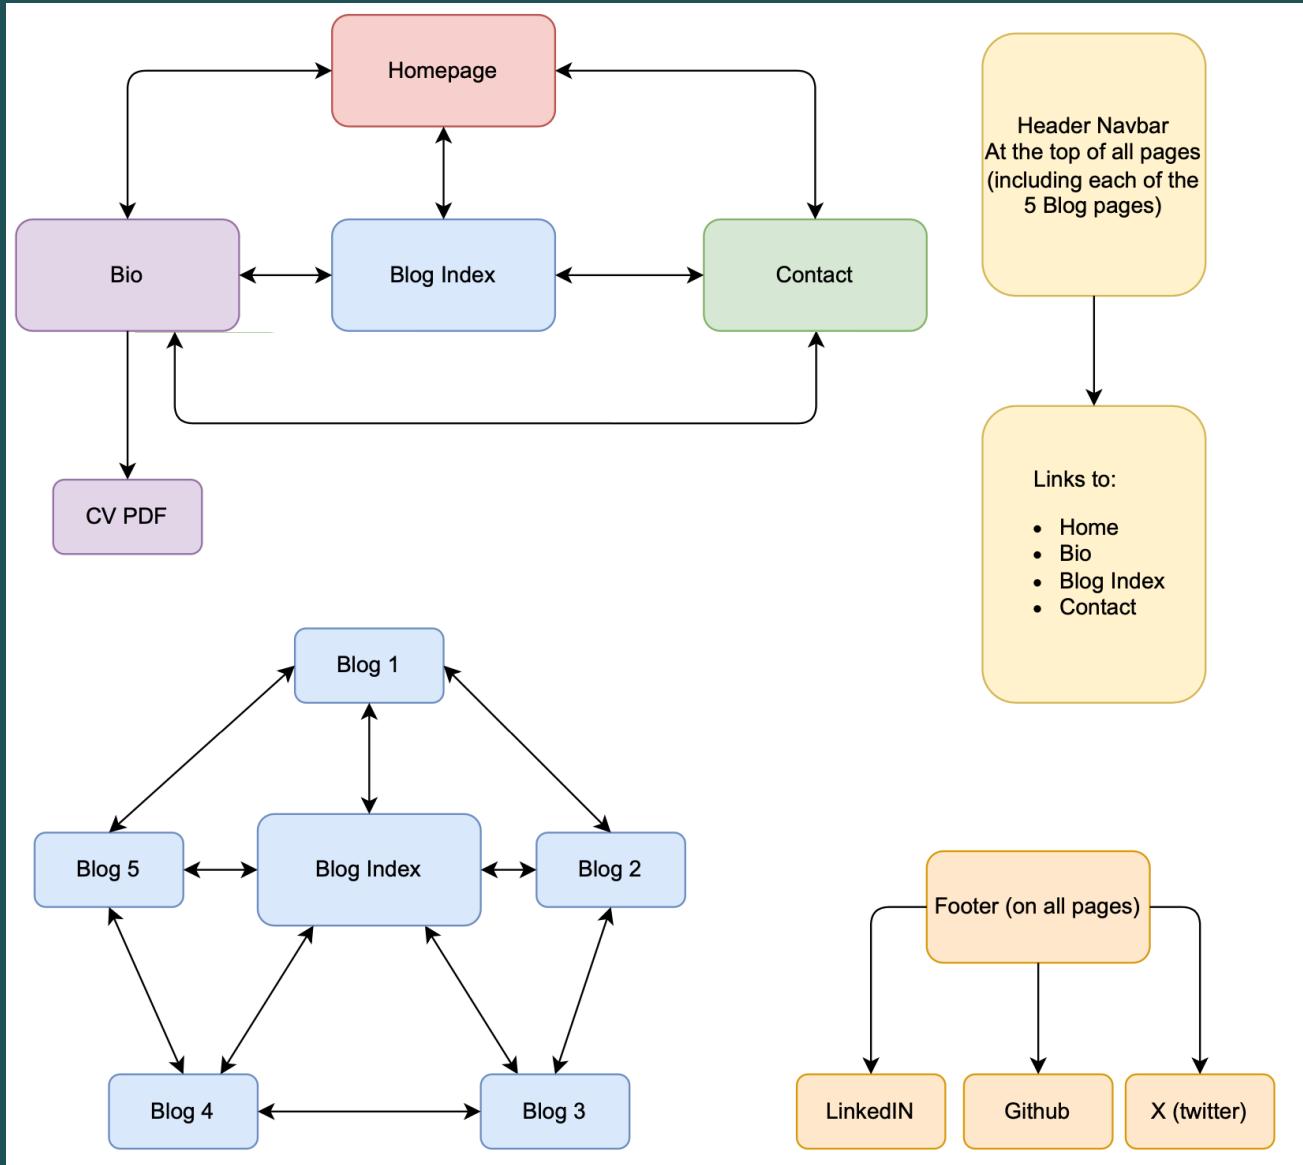

- Unfortunately, my attempts at using a free online tool looked terrible...
- However, I did like the concept, so I decided that I just would make this with text.
- I was able to salvage this and use it as my Favicon.

This screenshot shows the "Bio" section of the website. It includes a "SKILLS" heading with three bullet points: "Music Maestro: Expert in turning chaos into symphony.", "Web Wizardry: Navigating the web like it's my own musical score.", and "Hat Enthusiast: Because even superheroes need a stylish hat for every occasion.". Below that is a "Hobbies" heading with two bullet points: "Moonlighting as Spiderman: Climbing walls, saving the day, and occasionally busting a dance move when crime is slow..." and "Newcastle Knights Superfan: Cheering louder than a rock concert for my favourite rugby league team.". Further down are sections for "References" (with the note "Available upon request or when signalled by the Bat-Signal. (Just kidding, wrong superhero universe!)") and "Disclaimer" (with the note "This CV may contain traces of humour, sarcasm, and an overwhelming love for both music, web development, and fantastic headgear. Handle with care and a good sense of humour!"). The footer includes social media icons for LinkedIn, GitHub, and X, along with the copyright notice "© Reece Doyle 2023".

From High School Music Maestro to Web Developer Extraordinaire

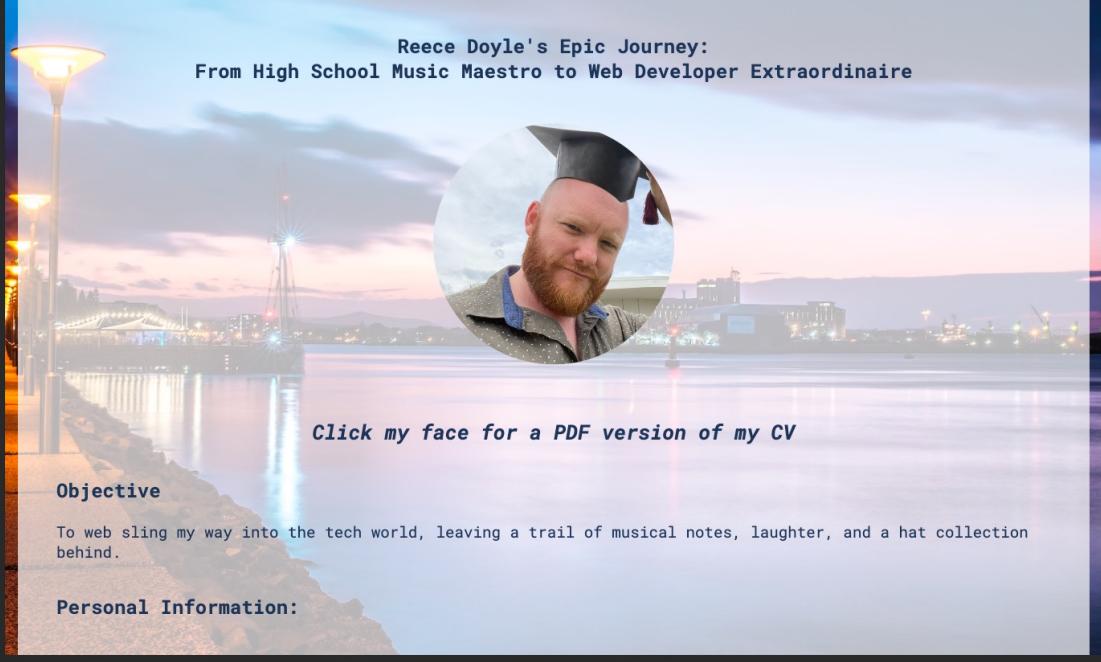

Click my face for a PDF version of my CV

Objective

To web sling my way into the tech world, leaving a trail of musical notes, laughter, and a hat collection behind.

Personal Information:

- Honed the skills to transform chaos into melodic symphonies while navigating the tumultuous seas of high school education.

Skills

- Music Maestro: Expert in turning chaos into symphony.
- Web Wizardry: Navigating the web like it's my own musical score.
- Hat Enthusiast: Because even superheroes need a stylish hat for every occasion.

Hobbies

- Moonlighting as Spiderman: Climbing walls, saving the day, and occasionally busting a dance move when crime is slow.
- Newcastle Knights Superfan: Cheering louder than a rock concert for my favourite rugby league team.

References:

Available upon request or when signalled by the Bat-Signal. (Just kidding, wrong superhero universe!)

Disclaimer:

This CV may contain traces of humour, sarcasm, and an overwhelming love for both music, web development, and fantastic headgear. Handle with care and a good sense of humour!

The screenshot shows a mobile-optimized resume website. At the top, there's a dark blue header with white text. It features a stylized logo '({RD}) _FSt_WbDv_'. Below the logo is the name 'Reece Doyle - Full Stack Web Developer'. There are three buttons: 'Bio' (with a person icon), 'Blog' (with a blog icon), and 'Contact' (with a mail icon).

The main content area has a light gray background with a faint city skyline watermark. It starts with a section titled 'Reece Doyle's Epic Journey: From High School Music Maestro to Web Developer Extraordinaire'. Below this is a circular profile picture of a man with a beard and a graduation cap.

Below the profile picture is a link: 'Click my face for a PDF version of my CV'. To the left of the link is the word 'Objective' in bold. The objective text reads: 'To web sling my way into the tech world, leaving a trail of musical notes, laughter, and a hat collection behind.'

Underneath the objective is a section titled 'Personal Information:' in bold. It contains three bullet points:

- Name: Reece Doyle
- Age: 38 (but age is just a number, right?)
- Address: 1 Newcastle St, Newcastle NSW 2200

• Web Wizardry: Navigating the web like it's my own musical score.

• Hat Enthusiast: Because even superheroes need a stylish hat for every occasion.

Hobbies

• Moonlighting as Spiderman: Climbing walls, saving the day, and occasionally busting a dance move when crime is slow.

• Newcastle Knights Superfan: Cheering louder than a rock concert for my favourite rugby league team.

The goal is to achieve a perfectly curled moustache that signals to the neighborhood cats, "I may nap on your doorstep, but I do it with class." Just be prepared for the disapproving stares from your cat, who will undoubtedly question your sanity and potentially plot revenge involving knocking over your favorite houseplants.

Last but certainly not least, consider organizing a monthly mustache party for your cat and its whiskered companions.

Picture a room full of sophisticated felines, sipping from tiny saucers of milk and engaging in whisker-centric conversations.

Throw in a few catnip-infused toys shaped like miniature top hats and monocles, and you've got yourself a soirée that even the most discerning cats would attend.

After all, a well-groomed moustache is not just a facial accessory; it's a lifestyle, darling.

Challenges,
Ethical Issues,
Favourite
parts

Challenges

- Broken Header: Couldn't make the logo sit on the left with the navbar on the right.
- Solution: align-items: flex-start; and margin-left: auto;

- Floating Footer: Footer was halfway up the page instead of at the bottom.
- Solution: Flexbox on the body container and flex-direction: column;

Challenges

- Broken Header: Extra margin at the top of the page.
- Solution: Adding this reset to index.scss.

```
* {
  box-sizing: border-box;
  margin: 0;
  padding: 0;

Challenges

- Couldn't modify font-size: My media query was changing the font-size at above 600px instead of below 600px.

@media screen and (max-width: $phone-breakpoint) { main { section {
      .main-image {
        img {
          width: 180px;
        }
      }

      .main-greeting {
        .greeting-text {
          font-size: 1.2rem;

- Solution: Nested in the wrong spot. Just had to move the .contact-section up 2 lines.

Ethical Issues

- Worrying about “stealing” code.
- Initially, I was concerned about the integrity of using any code I might have to find somewhere else without citing.
- I realised that it's not the same as stealing a melody or lyrics in a song. Coding is simply too varied, and it's more just about applying rules.
- There was very little if any code that I needed from an outside source anyway. I avoided using a stylesheet from elsewhere because I felt I wouldn't learn as much, and it would probably take longer modifying someone else's code than just trying my own first.

Favourite Parts

- I did it! (I'm not from a tech background). I learned so much!

- Love the colours!
- ChatGPT made it funny and motivated me.

- A fun way to express my humour!

- The pic of Newcastle worked so well with the colours I'd already picked.

- It features our cats!
